THE NOTED DR. JACOB COHEN COLLECTION

APPARENTLY THE MOST EXTENSIVE COLLECTION OF 18TH CENTURY
AMERICAN PAPER MONEY IN EXISTENCE

THE FINANCIAL HISTORY OF AMERICA BEFORE 1800 EXPRESSED BY THE ACTUAL MONEY USED

PAPER MONEY OF THE 18TH CENTURY ISSUED AND USED IN AMERICA. A Collection of over 2700 pieces of the Colonial, State, Continental, City and Private Issues of Bills of Credit, including Issues from ALL OF THE THIRTEEN ORIGINAL COLONIES AND STATES, and with a COMPLETE COLLECTION OF THE PAPER MONEY ISSUED BY THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS during the Revolution. Printed or engraved by famous early American printers and engravers, including Benjamin Franklin, James Parker, James Davis, A. & W. Green, Paul Revere, Nathaniel Hurd, etc. These bills picture the colonial and State, Continental and United States devices and emblems. The left side of each bill is pasted on sheets, and the whole collection bound in 14 vols., small folio. Together with the material described in the addenda.

1708-1800

UNDOUBTEDLY THE MOST EXTENSIVE AND WELL-ROUNDED COLLECTION OF AMERICAN BILLS OF CREDIT IN EXISTENCE. A financial history of 18th century America told by the bills actually used by the people as a medium of exchange; redundant with names and inscriptions on the backs telling for what purpose they were used; in many cases they are worn from hard usage during the perils of colonization and warfare. The only wonder is that so many have been preserved by Dr. Cohen to illuminate the almost unknown history of the bills of credit.

The collection was gathered by Dr. Cohen between 1840 and 1865, when he had access to family papers of famous men of the 18th century. From these he obtained bills and whole issues that are now unprocurable, such as the "Red Bill" issue of Maryland from the Charles Carroll of Carrollton papers. At the psychological moment he secured from Connecticut the nearest to a complete collection of its paper currency that could be obtained. The rare James River Bank Notes were from "last survivors" of that period. Today a collection as extensive and important in the financial history of America could not be made. Some of the notes are practically unprocureable in good condition, such as the New Hampshire issues; the only Vermont issue, of which Dr. Stevens wrote in 1855: "unknown in perfect condition"; the "Iron Dollars" of New York; the double-sheets, single-sheets and block of bills. These last can rarely be procured from any but government sources which are today closed forever. Dr. Cohen also had access to the original plates, from which the bills were printed, which are now preserved in government archives and unobtainable, and from these he made restrikes. The collection also contains about 125 of the EXCEEDINGLY RARE BILLS PRINTED BY BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

AUTOGRAPHIC MATERIAL. Practically every bill was signed by a man famous in American history, including Colonial Governors, Statesmen and Soldiers; Members of the Continental Congress; Signers of the Declaration of Independence; Jurists; Generals and Financiers of the Revolution; etc. Among them may be mentioned: 23 bills signed by John Hart, signer from New Jersey; 17 by John Morton, signer from Pennsylvania; 6 by Francis Hopkinson, signer from New Jersey; 2 by Robert Morris, signer from Pennsylvania and financier of the Revolution; a certificate by Samuel Adams, signer from Massachusetts; etc. The most reliable men were picked by each State to sign the bills and these will be mentioned in the following detailed description.

VOL. I. MASSACHUSETTS

D. s. by Jeremiah Allen, Treasurer of Massachusetts, a receipt to Col. Samuel Checkley for New Province Bills. Dr. Tyler of the N. H. Insane Asylum writes: "All the early issues of paper money in N. H. were redeemed and destroyed; the new emission bills took the place of all before in circulation. The few that escaped exchange and the Add to this small number, the few that were altered (fraudulently to larger denominations) and these are all the sources of supply." The original plates of the "independent bills" of New Hampshire were discovered in the state house by Dr. Tyler and were loaned to Dr. Cohen, who had the following restrikes made: Issues of 1717, block of four containing 1s., 1s.6d., 4s., 25s., block of four containing 15s., 30s., £3.10s., £4; 1737, 2s., 3s., 5s., 10s., £1, 2, 3, 5.; 1755, 6d., 1s., 3s., 3s.9d., 5s., 7s.6d., 10s., 15s., 30s. Your Excellency:-

May I recall to your memory that you were kind enough to show to me, one afternoon last Spring, your collection of American coins. I was particularly interested in those of Maryland and could not then understand the reason coins with the coat-of-arms of the family of Calvert were surmounted by the coronet of an Earl, when the Lord Proprietor was only a Baron.

Since that day, I have studied the matter somewhat and would beg to ask, if I might be allowed, at some time convenient to yourself, to look again at your collection.

Baltimore Maryland.

Dear Sir.

While having luncheon today at Alma Gimbaliet's the conversation drifted to a discussion of old and rare coins and I learnt that you have a very fine collection, and it has occurred to me that you might perhaps be interested in a certain coin that is in my possession.

My grandfather, Rhodora Payne was amongst those in San Francisco at the time of or shortly after the discovery of gold in California. About 1851 or 1852 he went to my Father, Uncle, and Aunt, three ten dollar gold pieces coined by Baldwin & Co. in San Francisco in 1850. These coins have been in the possession of my family from then until the death of my mother in 1922. Her two of them were sold. The third which was left to me I still have.

In the New York Times of Oct 19th appeared an article concerning an auction of a collection of coins by the firm of J.C. Morgan & Co. from which I quote the following extract "For a ten-dollar Baldwin & Co. coin privately minted in San Francisco in 1860 $1000⁰⁰ was paid." While I have seen coins of this issue quoted at varying prices over the past many years I have on account of sentimental reasons always refrained from disposing of the one I own. However upon seeing the price quoted in the above mentioned article, and the time being as they are, I have come to the conclusion that I can not afford $1000⁰⁰ worth of sentiment and hence I have taken the liberty of addressing you upon learning that you are an ~~advent~~ collector. Should you be interested in this particular coin I would be happy to comply with any suggestions you

Dear Sir:-

I am very much obliged to you for writing me about the Baldwin piece but as I already have this in my collection I have no need of another example. It is one of the most interesting of the California coins and I should think you would have no trouble in disposing of it. It might be worth your while to consult Mr. Wayte Raymond, 465 Park Avenue, New York City, a coin dealer from whom I have bought coins for many years.

Dear Mr. Garrett:

Enclosed please find impressions of three ancient Greek coins, of the fine condition and guaranteed genuiness, and in which if interested I shall be glad to send them to you for inspection.

No.1 Chalcidic League tetradrachm is very desirable and reasonably offered, belonging to the find of Olynthus, Macedonia. If this specimen is not represented in your Colection, I am sure you will do well, if you would give the due consideration to acquire the specimen brought to your attention.

Chalcidic League tetradrachms command always high prices in the European market, and if one were offered to you from abroad the price really would be prohibitive, due to the drastic depreciation of the United States currency in the foreign market.

I also have on hand many other desirable Greek specimens, and should you be interested in particular in any specimens for which you may be looking, I shall be glad to hear from you.

Very truly yours,

Daniel Kellad

Dear Mr. Garrett:

Just before closing my letter I have received from Athens the impressions of one Philip V tetradrachm and which I enclose. Very rare specimen and of the finest preservation procurable. Offered for $450.00. This price is reasonable considering the very high prices paid in the past for similar examples, not so fine.

I wish to draw your attention to a similar specimen sold at Dr. Hirsh's auction sale No. XIV, year 1929 at Lucerne, Switzerland, illustrated as No. 205 and which has brought the price of 4700 Swiss francs, adding the 15% for government tax and expert bidding amounting to 5405 Swiss francs or $1043.00. (Gold parity for franc 19.3¢) With the present depreciation of the United States currency it would amount to $1470.00. This is about the prices paid by Collectors for very fine Philip V tetradrachms in the European market and therefore venture to state that the specimen brought to your attention for consideration is very reasonable indeed, actually one third (1/3) what the specimen is worth. The specimen is positively genuine, personally guaranteed by me, and should you be interested in its acquisition, I will send it to you promptly for inspection, as soon as it arrives, without any obligation as to purchase.

I shall be glad to receive your reply concerning your interest in this magnificent, very rare and very desirable portrait tetradrachm of Philip V.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Garrett:

Frank Patterson's widow found among his possessions a few gold pieces which she asked me to exchange for her. The American coins I exchanged this morning. There being no prospect of capital punishment for possession of foreign pieces, however, I had planned to keep three as curios, giving her what they would bring at the foreign-exchange counter. One is a sovereign, another a ten-franc piece, but the third, it occurred to me, might be an oddity which either enjoys a premium which I would like to get for Pat's widow, or might be of special interest to you. This seems to be a Balkan coin with a weight value of presumably somewhere around $1.00. It is dated 1882 and probably is a Serbian 10-cinar piece.

No doubt you can identify it. If it is anything which would please you, won't you let me know? Neither at the bank nor at the American Express Company could it be identified!

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Watson:-

I have a 10 dinars piece of Milan I of Serbia, of 1882, but I am afraid it has not any particular value. Perhaps a slight premium might be paid on a piece in unusual condition. I am relieved that you agree with me that I can hold on to this piece without fear of capital punishment. As a matter of fact, you can hold on to American gold and not be accused of hoarding if the pieces have a value to collectors, which all of the earlier ones have, some of them running up into thousands of dollars a piece, and many of the later ones also, if they are in perfect condition.

I hope to see you soon, perhaps at another poker game.

Nel numero 240 del Giornale "IL MESSAGGERO" del 9 ottobre 1931, e nel "CORRIERE DELLA SERA", del 20 Dicembre 1933, è riportato un articolo, in cui si parla dei "Restauri in Santa Sofia" a Costantinopoli; impresa iniziata dallo scienziato americano Whittemore e appoggiata da S.E. Esat Bey, Ministro della Educazione di Turchia e da altre alte personalità e con la cooperazione dell'Istituto d'Arte Bizantina d'America.-

Importantissimi restauri nella Chiesa in parola furono fatti anche nel 1848 (anno dell'Egira 1265) dell'Architetto italiano Fossati. Ultimi i restauri furono fatti festeggiamenti e vennero coniate medaglie commemorative, una delle quali - grande in oro - fu offerta al Sultano Abdul Medjid.

Questa medaglia, insieme con altre medaglie, fatte coniare in occasione di grandi avvenimenti militari, politici e finanziari, trovasi conservata in apposito cofanetto di mogano, sormontato dallo Stemma Turco in Argento, venduto nel 1924 a S.Remo, dall'entourage dell'ultimo Sultano, ad un banchiere ed ora in possesso del sottoscritto.

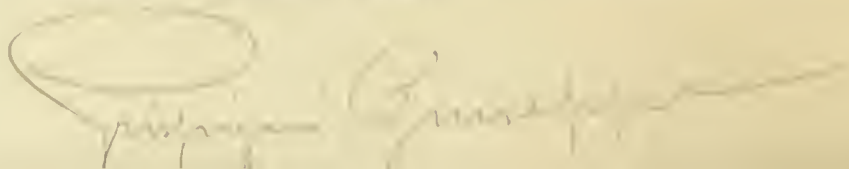

Il contenuto del cofanetto è specificato nell'unito prospetto, che è copia autentica di analogo prospetto annesso al cofanetto stesso, con firma autentica del "Directeur Général des Monnaies dell'epoca, Mihran Duz.- Si unisce una fotografia che riproduce le medaglie suddette, un poco più piccole delle originali, le quali sono tutte ben conservate, come se fossero uscite ora di zecca. La medaglia di Santa Sofia in oro è distinta, nella fotografia, col n.3.- Qualora questa ed anche le altre potessero interessare la S.V. On.le o l'Istituto d'Arte Bizantina d'America, oppure altre persone, il sottoscritto è disposto a cedere il tutto mediante equo compenso da stabilirsi.

Sarebbe intento gradito un cortese cenno di riscontro a riguardo.

My Dear Mr Garrett

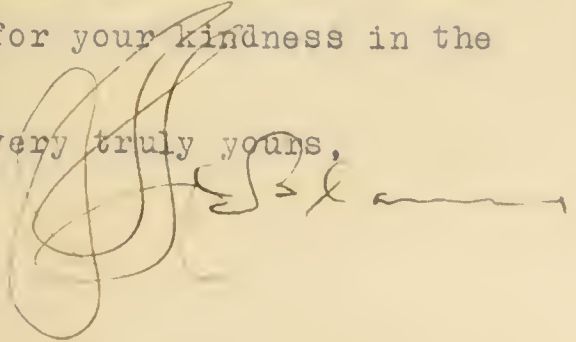

If you are one and the same with the Mr Garrett that purchased through H P Newlin of Baltimore the 1853 half dollar without arrows that was sold in the Randall sale of 1885 and which was subsequently disposed of to DeWitt Smith, would you mind advising what you know of the piece?

I have been trying to assemble some facts concerning this item and would like to have you answer the following questions if convenient.

- 1- Do you know of any govt publications listing this item or a die for same.
- 2- Do you know of any private ditto giving its history.
- 3- What condition was the item you had.
- 4- Have you seen an uncirculated one.
- 5- Do you know of any outside of the one you had, genuine or spurious.
- 6- Do you feel confident yours was genuine.
- 7- Can you give any other information about same.
- 8- If you know of any other accredited item, was it of the same die as yours.
- 9- What mint was yours, also what mint was any other you know of.

Thanking you for your kindness in the matter I remain,

very truly yours,

Dear Mr. LeBlanc:-

Replying to your letter No.62034 which I received on my return home from abroad I know nothing about the 1853 half dollar without arrows which you mentioned. However, in my father's (T.Harrison Garrett) collection which I now own there is an 1853 half dollar of the New Orleans mint in fine condition. I believe mine is genuine but I can give you no further information about it or about other similar pieces. It has been seen by Mr. Howland Wood of the American Numismatic Society who could perhaps give you more information than I can.

My dear Mr. Garrett,

In my files of Chalcidic League tetradrachms are recorded the following coins struck with the same dies as those used for striking the Chalcidic League tetradrachm in your collection. Five other coins show the same obv. and rev. dies as your piece; they are 1) Excavations at Olynthus, VI, no. 30, 2) Regling, Sammlung Warren, no. 565, 3) Hirsch, XIII, 1905 (Rhusopoulos sale), no. 848, 4) Forrer, Weber Collection, no. 1907, 5) now in the European market. The obv. die of your tetradrachm occurs muled with a second rev. die on a coin in the Athens Numismatic Museum. Finally, this same obv. die is found with a third rev. die on the following seven coins: 1) Paris, de Nanteuil Collection, no. 773, 2) Excavations at Olynthus, VI, no. 32, 3) Sale catalogue Ars Classica, VI, no. 647, 4) Sale catalogue Cahn 80, no. 132, 5) Sale catalogue Hirsch, XXI, 1912, no. 250, 6) and 7) at present in the European market.

Again with many thanks for your kindness in allowing us to make use of your tetradrachm, I beg to remain

My dear Mr. Garrett,

You may recall that in my letter of April 4th I enumerated five other tetradrachms of the Chalcidic League struck by the same obverse and reverse dies as your coin. Of these the fourth was no. 1907 of the Weber Collection, a collection purchased by Spink in 1918 and since dispersed by the same firm.

The Weber coin was badly double-struck along the profile of the face and yours is not; otherwise the two coins are so identical, even to small surface blemishes and nicks along the edge of the flan, that I suspect that your piece is the same coin as Weber 1907 and that the bad double-striking along the profile, apparent in the Weber Catalogue's photograph of the coin, has been almost effaced by retouching at some time between 1918 ^{and} _{at} the present.

May I ask if you will be so good as to tell me whether the coin came into your collection before or after 1918; if before, identity with the Weber coin is of course impossible, and we should have disconcerting evidence that two different coins can be identical even to the minutest of blemishes --- but this seems out of the question.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Garrett:

At the suggestion of Mr. Simpson, your secretary, I am writing to advise that I have for sale a collection of rare gold coins, amounting to 7500.00 face value. They are in denominations of 2.00, 5.00, 10.00 and 20.00, ranging in dates from 184 to 1858. All have been purchased from the richest gold find on Eder St., and the condition of all pieces is extra fine, showing absolutely no signs of wear.

Since my purchase there has been litigation in the Circuit Court as to title between the property owners and the finders, from whom my purchases were made. However, my rights to clear title have now been established by the Court and I am able to make legal transfer.

As to condition and assortment, I believe this is a most desirable collection and it would be difficult to duplicate.

Dear Mr. Barrett:

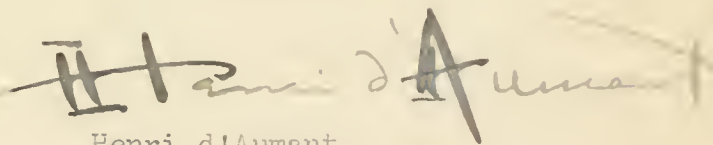

I am informed that you are interested in numismatics.
The following may interest you.

I am in possession of two copper coins of late 15th century Spanish mintage. While I forget their denomination, they might interest you. They bear primitive effigies of Ferdinand and Isabella. They formed part of a collection dug up in Carrizosa by my father. A number of years ago, I had them evaluated by Raymond Lyte or Lyte Raymond (you probably know to whom I refer - the stamp and coin people in New York), and at that time were worth about Three ($3.00) Dollars.

These coins do not particularly interest me and I am willing to part with them for a consideration.

Interested?

MEDAL COMMEMORATING THE SESQUI CENTENNIAL
OF WASHINGTON'S INAUGURATION
MCMXXXIX

DESIGNED BY ALBERT STEWART

MEDAL COMMEMORATING THE SESQUICENTENNIAL OF WASHINGTON'S INAUGURATION

Plans for commemorating the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the inauguration in New York of George Washington as the first President of our Country have been stimulated by the interest in the New York World's Fair, which is scheduled to open April 30th.

Many of the museums of the city are arranging special exhibitions in which material related to this event is to be given prominence and it has seemed fitting to the Council of the American Numismatic Society that a commemorative medal be struck and offered for subscription.

The design for this medal has been entrusted to Mr. Albert Stewart, one of the best known of the younger American sculptors, who already has produced several medals, and something of the success with which he has executed this commission may be judged from his model which appears on this sheet. The bust of Washington is shown in the uniform of the Commander-in-Charge of the Continental Army, with his face in profile. The dates 1789 and 1939 are separated by the seal of our Society. The reverse is occupied by the inscription "TO COMMEMORATE THE INAUGURATION OF GEORGE WASHINGTON, FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, APRIL 30TH, 1789" surrounded by thirteen stars.

Copies of this medal, two and one-half inches in diameter, will be struck in silver and in bronze. The silver medals will be issued at $10.00 and the bronze at $5.00 each. The medals will be numbered and subscriptions will be filled in the order of their receipt, the first copy of each medal being reserved for the cabinet of the Society. The subscription will close four months after the date of its opening, and thereafter no copies will be struck without special action of the Council, and at double the subscription price. Orders, accompanied by cheques, should be mailed to the Secretary.

My dear Sir:-

I have been informed, you possess a very fine collection of gold coins and I am taking the liberty to inquire whether your collection includes any little California Quarters and Halves? If not whether you would be interested in a very fine collection of those dear little pieces?

Permit me to inform you, I have a collection of these little pieces which I have been gathering for more than a score of years; but I am getting up in years and with no one to leave them, have been considering disposing of them. It consists of

59 Quarters, both round and octagonal
51 Halves, both round and octagonal 110 pieces all different and in an uncirculated condition.

I also have approximately six pieces which are duplicates of the above, but do not include them unless it is desirable.

These coins, as you may be informed, were issued during the years from 1852, to 1832, during the Gold Rush in California. They were issued by private mints under the sanction and the control of the Government and passed current as money for all purposes. More recently, a few of them were minted by the Government for commemorative purposes.

When a dealer has a stock of these little pieces which he desires to sell, he will call them "Genuine California Gold"; should he not have any and is seeking a stock, he will derate their value and call them "Trinkets"; but during the recent past, many of these coins on the auction block, have brought from four to twenty dollars each and more and coins which will bring such prices, are indeed, valuable little "Trinkets".

I shall be delighted to have you inspect these coins or to supply you with any further information concerning them. I can bring them to you at any place and at any time most convenient to you, either day or night.

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Garrett:

Mr. George Grosz, the painter, recently told me of having seen your collection of Greek and Roman coins, and how much this had interested him.

This recalled to me the correspondence we had about two years ago. At that time, upon the suggestion of the late Mr. Edward T. Newell, I sent you a photograph of a gold medallion of Maximian in my possession, and you wrote back that you were not at present adding to your collection.

Not knowing whether that is still so, I wish to inform you that I plan to be in Baltimore on Tuesday, October 21, and I wondered whether you would want me to bring along some of my Greek and Roman coins in order to show them to you. I have now a very large stock containing some exceedingly fine material, and, if the above proposition is agreeable to you, I would appreciate hearing from you as to what types of coins or medallions would be more particularly apt to interest you.

I could easily arrange to come and see you at your convenience, and without any obligation on your part of course. Baltimore, Md.

Dear Mr. Garrett:

Thank you very much for your letter of October 14.
I am very sorry to learn that you have been ill and I beg to accept my best wishes for a complete and speedy recovery.

As I have occasion to come to Baltimore from time to time, it would be easy for me to arrange an appointment at your convenience whenever you feel that you might like to see a few fine coins. Or, if you happen to come to New York in the future, I shall of course be very glad to meet you here.

Yours sincerely

Charles L. Morley

Puducotta Coin

Puducotta is one of the Protected Native States of the Madras Presidency subject to the British rule. This state is ruled over by a Rajah, on whom the title of Maharaja was of late conferred. The family title of the Maharaja is Londenion, which means "The Servite". His family deity is the goddess of Fortune, who is supposed to be an unfailing source of wealth giving to the Maharaja; and hence the emblem of this goddess is struck upon some coins current at Puducotta. Amongst the several current coins of Puducotta such as we use here, there is one pie coin very current there. On the one side of the pie coin, there is the emblem of the goddess struck, and on the other, the seal of the Maharaja. This pie coin, old as it is new to our city & not current or changeable.

One pie coin is equal in value to our $\frac{1}{16}$ part of a quarter anna. Sometimes these pie-coins, bearing the emblem of the Goddess of Fortune are even worshipped by the Lower Orders of this State.

One Madras quarter anna is changeable at Pondicherry for five such pie-coins.

These pie coins are as old as the Peshwa, connected with the Mahara War, or it has been introduced into the State some 100 years before -
